P. O. Box 606DELUGE OF RICE WHEN SUN FO AND BRIDE DEPARTJudging from the appearance of the decks of the Siberia at the sailing hour yesterday afternoon, half the rice crop of the islands had been bought up and scattered in seeing off Sun Fo, son of Dr. Sun Yat Sen and his bride, who until 1:30 o'clock yesterday, was Miss Kai Chun of Honolulu.When the young couple appeared at the dock it began to rain rice from all directions. As they passed over the gangplank and to the deck of the steamer the rattle of the rice as it came in volleys almost drowned out the noise of the steam whinch and showers of the cereal followed them to the stateroom where they took refuge, only to find it coming through the porthole, thrown by unseen hands.The through passengers on the big ship learning the cause hurried ashore and bought pounds of rice with the announced intention of keeping up the downpour all the way to San Francisco. The rice was not doomed to be wasted, for as the steamer pulled out the Chinese crew was sweeping it up in bucketsful and storing it away in the forecabin.The marriage of the heir of the first president of the Republic of China and Miss Kai Chun at the Moanalua home of F. W. Damon yesterday afternoon was a brilliant and picturesque affair.The Damon home had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with green bamboo boughs and golden blossoms. The beautiful young bride appeared in a striking Oriental costume made in China especially for the event. She was attended by Misses Sun Yuen and Sun On, sisters of the bridegroom. The best man was Choy Yuen Kee, an old school friend of the bridegroom at St. Louis College.After the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. Doremus Scudder, an informal reception was held. As a souvenir Sun Fo presented each of the guests with one of the new dollars of the Republic bearing on one side a likeness of his father, Dr. Sun Yat Sen.The invited guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Chau Kim, Mr. and Mrs.
Chang Chau, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Ai, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Tong, Miss Grace Chang, Mr. and Mrs. Leong Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Chau, Mr. and Mrs.
Ching Chow, Mr. and Mrs. Yee Yee, Miss Donaldina Cameron, E. A. Mackenzie, Choy Yuen Kee, Mrs. Ho Fow, and the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tai Tong Chun.MANGO-CANNING A PROMISING INDUSTRYThe following article is from a late issue of the Manila Cablenews-American:Speaking of the possibilities of canning mangoes in the Philippines and competing with India and other countries in the industry, O. P.
Barrett, superintendent of experimental stations of the bureau of agriculture, says:"A plant to can mangoes, litchis, pineapples, etc., has recently been erected at Muzaffarpur, about 350 miles from Calcutta on the East Indian Railway. It is said the canning methods are identical with those employed in California in the canning of freestone peaches; mangoes are merely peeled and the pulp then sliced from the seed.Here in the Philippines where we have practically fiberless mangoes, this industry should be a much simpler process as far as removing the pulp from the seed goes, and furthermore, the quality of the canned article would certainly be superior, since the great objection to sliced mangoes is, of course, the "fibrous-ness.""Hence, if the cannery in India is a success it should be a still better proposition here in the Philippines, once the mango industry is established—that is, once we can boast of a modern orchard of mango trees, every individual of which bears a full crop at least once every twelve months. The carabao variety would leave very little to be desired by the cannery man."SCAMMELL-MEARES WEDDING IN AUTUMNSAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 14.— The marriage of Miss Mollie Meares and Lieut. William Kirk Scammell of the United States revenue cutter service will be celebrated in the autumn in Seattle, where of late the Meares family has resided. Mr. and Mrs. John L. Meares, the parents of the bride-elect, were former residents of this city, where they were prominent in the old southern set. Meares was department postmaster here for many terms.Miss Meares is the granddaughter of the late Dr. John Meares, health officer of San Francisco for a number of terms.
The late Mrs. Roger Galt, who, as Miss Mary Meares, was one of the greatest beauties and belles that California has ever known, was her aunt. Her mother was formerly Miss Mollie Thompson, whose family now lives in Palo Alto.
Lieutenant Scammell is at present connected with the Thetis, now stationed in Hawaiian waters.
